ROCKS MATTER – a Photo Exhibition by the Society to Save Rocks - helps focus our attention on the magnificent 2500 million year old Natural Heritage of the Deccan Plateau of India. These fascinating balancing granite formations, unfortunately, are taken for granted and are yet to be acknowledged as reminders of the geological history of our Earth as well an important part of the eco system. They are habitat to special flora and fauna and contribute to recharging precious groundwater. With a little effort, they can be integrated into our city scapes and living spaces, and they are an ideal natural infrastructure for tourism, adventure sports and recreation. Can we allow them to be destroyed randomly?

Join us for the official Exhibition Opening on 2nd July 2021 | 6:30 pm IST

Green Humour For A Greying Planet is a curation of gag cartoons and comic strips based exclusively on wildlife and nature, perhaps the first of its kind. At a time when global warming, wildlife crimes and man-animal conflicts are at their worst, 'Green Humour' is sure to provide its readers some much needed comic relief. A comprehensive and satirical take on various aspects of the natural world and the threats to its conservation, this book will appeal to both the scientifically inclined readers as well as the general readers.

FASSBINDER – LIEBEN OHNE ZU FORDERN

( FASSBINDER: TO LOVE WITHOUT DEMANDS )

A film by Christian Braad Thomsen

2015 • Documentary • 1h 49m

14 July 2021 | 18:30 hrs IST

The film "Fassbinder: To love without demands" takes a Freudian lens to the life and career of the seminal filmmaker. Friend and devotee of Fassbinder from 1969 to the end, Thomson runs through the director's career with a psychoanalytic bent, supported by an unreleased interview he shot in 1978 when the great man was particularly exhausted and loose-lipped. Thomsen divides his docu into chapters — "Childhood," "The Adult Child," etc. — to further emphasize the psychoanalytical underpinnings, especially with regard to Fassbinder's earliest years.

80 minutes, 2015-16, India and Pakistan, Hindi /English with English Subtitles

21 July 2021 | 18:30 hrs IST

Summary: In Pakistan a rock star teaches a group of girls to express themselves through music in Karachi's most volatile district. Hamza Jafri travels in an armed vehicle. He is a musician famous for his hard hitting political lyrics since the 1990s. Since then religious fundamentalism has been on the rise with shops selling music torched, concerts bombed and musicians threatened with death. Seeing the shrinking space for music and artists Hamza opens a music school. Captured over 3 years Lyari Notes is the narrative of four young girls who attend Hamza's music school and learn what it takes to express oneself despite the cycles of violence.
