ART COMES FROM THE BEAK THE WAY IT HAS GROWN

(Kunst kommt aus dem Schnabel wie er gewachsen ist)

by Sabine Herpich

Duration: 106 minutes, 2020, German with English Subtitles

Wednesday, 13 January 2021, 6:30 pm IST

At the Mosaik art studio in Berlin, artists with disabilities are absorbed in their work. Sabine Herpich observes the artists in the course of creation and directs her gaze at the institution itself: its processes, staff and spaces. The film succeeds in maintaining its focus on the art itself rather than the handicaps of its creators. It is around these works that the institution takes form, thus coming into view first and foremost as an institution for art, not one for people with disabilities. The idea of art becomes holistic, encompassing the people who make it as well as the places where it is created; it means looking at the works, and talking about them, but also art as work, complete with working hours and wage.
