20TH OCTOBER 2020 - 31ST OCTOBER 2020

The German Unification Day champions the importance of unity and the power of the collective; it also symbolises harmony and inclusion. Goethe-Zentrum Hyderabad in partnership with Red Balloon is inviting students from India and Germany to come together to participate in a unique global collaborative program for young people titled 'Bringing Down the Wall'.

The objective of this program is to cement the importance and value of collective identity with the younger generation and provide them with an opportunity to come together and express their vision for a better united world for all. Through an exciting and highly creative 2 week workshop, the participants will be taken on a journey of self and social awareness which will culminate into a Short Film (Audio-Visual Montage). The film will be created & conceptualised collectively by the participants under the mentorship of a senior design mentor.

A PANEL DISCUSSION

Register in advance for this meeting: <https://tinyurl.com/y46mlcv8> or catch us live on Facebook or Youtube

31ST OCTOBER 2020 | 6:00 PM - 7:30 PM

With the explosive use of social media, people from all walks of life have been discussing its impacts; fake news, isolation from real human interaction, and many more. There is however a frequently overlooked problematic area: The impact of social media on photography.

As channels for clicking and sharing have grown exponentially; for the true, artistic or journalistic photographer, this trend is sometimes disturbing. The ability to identify a photogenic moment and then use technology, training, and experience to capture it for perpetuity has been lost among endless millions of spontaneous thumb-tapped images.

Join us for a panel discussion with the experts as they discuss The Twain: Photography and Social Media and raise the curtain to the upcoming Photography Event which is the largest in South Asia: The Indian Photo Festival.

Panel: Aquin Mathews, Joyoti Roy, Kishor Krishnamoorthi.

Moderator: Nishat Fatima

Indian Photo Festival (IPF), is India's longest running international photography festival and one of the leading photography event in South Asia. The IPF 2020 will take place in Hyderabad, from 12th November - 13th December.
