AZADI KA AMRIT MAHOTSAV!

Grüß Gott (Greetings)! Trust you are all doing well.

Interesting Trivia: The Indian flag is manufactured and supplied from only one place in the nation. The Karnataka Khadi Gramodyoga Samyukta Sangha (KKGSS), located in Dharwad in Karnataka, has the authority to manufacture and supply the Indian national flag. Did you know that? While you dig deeper on more such trivia's of the past 75 years of India's Independence, we are thrilled to share with you about the 70 years of India- German relationship and the events that we will be hosting around Independence in this edition.

Stay tuned for more updates on our social media page. Please find all the details on our classes below.

75 YEARS of India's Independence!

As India celebrates her 75 Years of Independence, we become acutely aware once again of two wholly different countries and their parallel trajectories over the last eight decades. India emerged from the shackles of British colonialism, the gravely battered Germany was resurrecting itself post World War II we witness India and Germany leading from the front. It is the convergence of the two nations that draw our attention in the present times.

Interestingly, the national anthem, Jana Gana Mana Adhinayaka Jai Hei, composed by Rabindranath Tagore was first performed with a full German orchestra in Hamburg in September 1942, under the auspices of Netaji Subhash Chandra Bose, much before it was officially declared as such by the then President of India.

Germany and India have forged diplomatic ties since 1951 and promoting actively scientific, cultural, educational, and business exchange. While German language teaching started well over 100 years ago in Pune in 1914, the first cultural and educational institutions were established within 10 years of independence. The basis of the Indo-German cultural exchange is the Cultural Agreement between the Federal Republic of Germany and India that came into force in September 1969. The Agreement establishes the foundation of cooperation in the field of culture and education between Germany and India.

The German Academic Research Service was established in New Delhi in 1960 and now oversees a consortium (The German Centre for Research and Innovation - DWIH) with 20 academic, research, funding bodies, and institutes of higher learning from Germany to further and facilitate mobility of students and academia of both countries. These organizations work closely with leading Indian universities and ICMR institutes.

The cultural and educational network continues to be expanded and enriched by the presence of Goethe-Zentrum such as ours. Goethe-Zentrum Hyderabad was launched in 2004 followed by four others soon after.

As such, India's journey has been magnificent and meaningful, and as we celebrate, it is time to pause and ponder, to look ahead, to look within, and also beyond. It may well be time to revisit trajectories with our friends and partners and realign priorities and overall efforts to establish peaceful coexistence across continents.

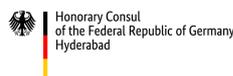

"Goethe-Zentrum Hyderabad will celebrate Azadi Mahotsava by planting 75 saplings in Hyderabad. It is believed that by planting a tree, we invest in the future and hope for a better, greener tomorrow. Do join us for this celebratory event with staff, students and friends of Goethe-Zentrum Hyderabad. Check out our social media handles and the website given below for more information."

About E.F.I.

Lakes and ponds often bear the brunt of modern day human negligence. Most of India's freshwater bodies are polluted/contaminated due to human activity. E.F.I focuses on scientific revival of these freshwater bodies through a community based collaborative conservation effort. We volunteer for India & her Environment. E.F.I works out of 14 Indian states.

Goethe-Zentrum Hyderabad is very delighted to partner with E.F.I to host a 75 minutes event on the occasion of India's 75th Independence day celebration through their HYDROSTAN: Celebrate India's Water.

HELLO AGAIN- A WEDDING DAY BY MAGGIE PEREN, 2020 | 89 MINUTES

05 AUGUST 2022 | 18:30 HRS IST| GOETHE-ZENTRUM HYDERABAD

@Goethe Institut, Goethe on Demand

MOVIE DATES ARE A MUST! Yes, this has become such an important part of all our lives. Good content on a screen is appreciated by everyone. Last month, we tasted and were left speechless with one such content was Anne Zohra Berrached's 24 Wochen/ 24 Weeks. It was an intense, real and a movie that will linger with you for a long time.

In the process of continuing to celebrate and honor the filmmaker, screenwriter, actor, cameraman, editor, this month we are celebrating director Maggie Peren and her film, "Hello again - A wedding day".

Friendship is gold, relationship is brass. ZAZIE (Alicia von Rittberg) shares an apartment with her two best friends. None of them seem capable of a relationship. And since the nights are long and life is short, it's really better to avoid love completely. But the invitation to attend the marriage of her best friend PHILIPP (Tim Oliver Schultz) to her arch-rival FRANZISKA (Emilia Schüle) not only causes the apartment mailbox to overflow, but sends Zazie's emotions into overdrive: she must prevent her friend from making the biggest mistake of his life! However, her attempts to sabotage the wedding, with the help of roommate ANTON (Edin Hasanovic), fail miserably, and repeatedly! A love story of a rather different sort traps Zazie into a never-ending wedding waltz, completely upending more than just her attitude to love.

HELLO AGAIN - A WEDDING DAY BY Maggie Peren.

Length: 89 minutes

Language: German

Subtitles: English

Venue: Goethe-Zentrum Hyderabad, Road no.3, Journalist Colony, Hyderabad

Who has a chance to get a job in Germany?

As an industrial location, there is always a demand in Germany for engineers in all sectors, for IT specialists and natural scientists. The demand for doctors and nursing staff is also growing along with the share of older people in the population. For this reason, immigrants with qualifications in medical and social professions also have very good chances on the job market.

Who does 'Make it in Germany' target??

The portal offers a wealth of information on visa formalities, recognition of professional qualifications, the labor market, applying for jobs, employment contracts, business etiquette, starting up a business, the dual training system, studying and research, language courses and integration. It also offers tips and addresses on everyday life in Germany - from registering with the authorities to finding a kindergarten and renting an apartment.

What interactive services does Make it in Germany offer?

The quick check on the home page enables you to make an initial assessment of your chances. This online tool asks you about your origins, certificates and qualifications. In the next step, you can find out the conditions you must meet to receive a residence and work permit for Germany and where you can access further advice.
