Amidst growing urban jungles and shrinking green spaces, gardens and pockets of natural wilderness (scattered across the city) prove to be an oasis, sustaining native wildlife. During the lockdown, Kobita Dass Kolli and Lakshmi Prabhala spent time observing the flora and fauna in their gardens hoping for some respite. They found these encounters with garden-dwellers immensely entertaining and visually engaging. Their discoveries lead to a deeper understanding of the marvels of Nature as well as an appreciation of the rich variety of micro-habitats in and around Hyderabad. Unnoticed by us, all of Nature - animals, plants, soil, rocks, lakes, rivers and weather - is intricately networked. Showcasing visuals of biodiversity from their backyards, Kobita and Lakshmi urge you to step out, observe, marvel and celebrate Mother Earth in all her intricate beauty.

On view until: 15 May 2021

CINEMA ROCKS: PATHAR KE ASLI SANAM

A Baithak of the "I am here to Wonder" conversations!

20 May 2021 | 18:30 hrs IST

The "I am Here to Wonder" baithaks keep the wonder front and center. They are about the moments when we step out of our ordinary consciousness and tap into something greater.

Cinema Rocks: Pathar ke Asli Sanam is a Mulaqaat in which esteemed film makers and film actors from the area discuss how the rocks in the Telangana region feature in films that they have made: how the landscape can be a character by itself in a movie, the memories of the rocks of Hyderabad that they hold dear and anecdotes of filming amongst the rocks. Mr. Shyam Benegal, Ms. Dia Mirza, and Ms. Nandini Reddy will be in conversation and it will be moderated by Ms. Uma Magal. It is cosponsored by Goethe-Zentrum Hyderabad, Moving Images Film Club and Hyderabad Film Club.

Based on the film "Other Kohinoors", The Rocks of Hyderabad by Uma Magal and Mahnoor Yar Khan | www.otherkohinoors.com

CELEBRATE GOOD TIMES, COME ON (BUT SUSTAINABLY!)

A deep dive into zero waste gifting!

29 May 2021 | 18:30 hrs IST

We are all becoming increasingly reliant on eCommerce to fulfill our gifting obligations. Oftentimes we rush through the process of gifting, simply because of the numerous occasions that are celebrated nowadays. It has now become a sort of a chore, rather than the beautiful act of appreciation that it is.

Have you ever thought of the items that you are gifting? They may perhaps look beautiful but they could be environmentally and functionally not as meaningful as they can be made out to be.

Through this webinar we would like to re-establish how showing gratitude towards friends and family in a mindful manner is awesome. Let's dive into various aspects of gifting that we often overlook through some actual DIYs that we can do together and gift sustainably!
